Old Miss' Cotton Staple Is Longest

And Oklamoa's Is First in Grade, on Cotton Crop of 1938

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The Department of Agriculture's report on the 1938 cotton crop showed Friday that of the major producing states Mississippi's crop ranged first in staple length, and Oklahoma's first in grade.

State crops showing the percentage of one inch or longer in length, and the percentage of white middling or better, respectively, included:

Arkansas—1,301,236 bales; 48.8 per cent, and 52.4 per cent.

Russia Is to Join British and French

Agreement Is Near Between Democracies and Soviet Union

LONDON, Eng.—(AP)—Soviet Russia has proposed restoration of the Anglo-French-Russian Triple Entente of the World war, a highly authoritative source said Friday, as a bulwark against possible future aggression by Germany, Italy or Japan.

Such a recommendation of a flat reciprocal military alliance was said to have been made by Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff to Sir William Seeds, British ambassador in Moscow.

No official indication was given of the Anglo-French reply, but Britain, although favoring a less binding agreement believed ready to accept such a military alliance rather than lose Russia's support.

Moscow, having in mind the possibility of attack both by Germany in the West and Japan in the East, was said to have demanded military support from Britain and France in return for her adhesion to the bloc of nations they are forming.

Expected to Join

LONDON, Eng.—(AP)—Soviet Russia was reported Thursday night to have sent the British Foreign Office proposals which indicated Soviet willingness to participate in the British-French coalition.

It was said that "the entire forces" of the three nations would be pledged to resist any aggression in Europe if the proposals were accepted.

The Soviet proposals, which counteracted those put forward in Moscow by the British ambassador, Sir William Seeds, to Foreign Commissar Litvinoff, were being considered by the British Office. It was reported also that talks with Turkey were progressing.

Some quarters believed that if agreement could be reached with Moscow, Britain shortly would be able to announce the inclusion of two new allies—one with great reserves of manpower and raw materials and the other of prime strategic importance—in the front she is building in an attempt to check the Rome-Berlin axis.

Poland, Greece and Roumania have received promises of French-British aid if their independence is threatened.

Senator Caraway Obtains Release of $30,000 Grant

PWA Had Delayed Advance on $90,000 Grant Because of Contest

TO CONTINUE WORK

Piling Paid for, General Foundation Work Is to Begin

A $30,000 check from the federal government—the first advance on the United States' grant of $90,000 for the Hope county new $200,000 courthouse and jail building—has been received by the county, it was learned Friday.

Local officials thanked the intervention of Senator Hattie W. Caraway for release of the check by the Public Works Administration (PWA), which had previously delayed payment because of the pending election appeal by the Washington county-seat adherents.

The Washington appeal case is due for a decision by the Arkansas Supreme Court May 8.

Work Continues

Meanwhile, the contractor who has completed the job of sinking piling on the courthouse location, the old Garland High School grounds, is being paid off; and construction on the second contract, for general foundation work, is starting at once. The foundation is to be completed in 30 days, after which the third and fourth contracts will be let, (3) general building contract, and (4) contract for furniture and fixtures and jail equipment.

The federal government demands that the building be finished before December 1.

This is the second time the Washington litigation has threatened the courthouse building project, and the second time Senator Caraway has intervened successfully with the PWA.

When the project was first started last fall Albert Graves, of Graves & Graves, project attorneys, made a trip to Washington to obtain PWA approval of a federal grant and loan. Because of the pending election contest the PWA delayed approval. Senator Caraway then interceded, the project was approved, and construction begun on the piling.

The Contest

This spring, before the first federal cash advance could be made, the PWA demanded a certificate stating there was no litigation involving the project. Being unable to make such an affidavit, local authorities went to the Fort Worth (Texas) regional office to explain matters, and obtained approval from the regional office. But the Washington (D. C.) office of PWA overrode the regional office and refused payment.

Lloyd Spencer, one of the three courthouse construction commissioners, telephoned Mrs. Caraway from Hope and she promised to take the matter up with the PWA. Notice of release of the $30,000 check by PWA came through Thursday night.

The courthouse commissioners are: R. M. LaGrone, Sr., H. M. Stephens, and Mr. Spencer, with County Judge Frank Rider as ex-officio member.

Dallas Executives Visit Next Friday

Premature Announcement Is Blamed on Bowen, C. of C. Secretary

A special train of 64 goodwill tourists, composed of Dallas business executives, failed to arrive here Friday morning—much to the regret of R. F. Bowen, secretary of the Hope Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Bowen's biggest regret is—that he released the story for publication prematurely.

The Dallas business executives are not actually scheduled to arrive until next Friday morning, April 28.

The mistake occurred in the "release" dates, Mr. Bowen said. He asked The Star to forgive him and also to express his regrets to the public.

The announcement of the visit was published yesterday (Thursday) on the front page of this newspaper.

Anti-Catholic Demonstrations Put Out of Hall at Edinburgh

EDINBURGH, Scotland.—(AP)—Two anti-Catholic demonstrations were ejected from Usher hall Friday as they interrupted the ceremony in which United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy received the freedom of the city of Edinburgh.

Speaking at the Usher hall ceremony, the ambassador said that although "covert warfare burns fitfully beneath the surface of international relationships throughout the world," there is consolation in the fact that a general war thus far has been avoided.

The conversation went like this:

Q. Your name and age, please?

A. Louie Richardson, 46.

Q. Your address?

A. Old Highway 67, mile and a half west of Hope.

Q. Do you want a blonde or brunette?

A. Either one would be all right—but a brunette is preferred.

Q. Fat or skinny?

A. Well, I had rather have a medium type—not too fat and not too skinny.

Q. What about her age?

A. Would rather for her to be between 20 and 40 years old. I just want her to be a good and true woman.

Q. What about your bad habits? The prospective bride would want to know?

A. I don't have any bad habits—except that I chew tobacco. I don't smoke or curse. I'm an active church worker and I am willing to work hard for a living.

Q. What about a talkative wife?

A. I don't care how much she talks, just so she is a good and true woman and won't nag me.

Other information about Mr. Richardson follows:

He has lived near Hope all his life. He stands five feet, seven inches, has dark eyes, weighs 142 pounds and said he was in good health, and willing to work hard for a livelihood.

He has a good milk cow and 20 chickens. Has a garden near his home. He is at present employed by the WPA, and has been working on some of the construction underway on county.

We Must Be More Than Shocked

Americans read with a shudder of dismay the news that all German children must hereafter, from age 10, be members of the Hitler Youth, and go through a series of prescribed training courses which lead directly into the army. We have seen the pictures of tiny Italian children of 6 making their baby-like efforts to imitate the chest-puffing, cin-trowing, wild-eyed gestures they have been taught to adopt.

We have jittered a little at the thought of what these children will be when they grow up, never having learned anything but the "might-is-right" philosophy which was already old to their cave-man ancestors hundreds of thousands of years ago.

But we would do well to shudder and jitter a little less at these things, and to pay more attention to our own youth problem. To say that we do not wish any such regimentation as so repels us abroad is not enough.

Let us never forget that the Nazi movement was largely a youth movement. The mass of its followers came from the ranks of the millions of young fellows who came from the war to a disorganized civil life in which they found no place, and from the ranks of students and other young people who, soon joined them in misery and discontent as the schools poured the morose and civil life offered no future.

Americans do not like to admit that they have a "youth problem." We are prone to think of "youth" as just like anybody else, only younger. It is not quite so.

Dr. Caroline B. Zachry of the Progressive Education Association has made a five-year study of America boys and girls, and finds a depressing situation. "There is no place for youth in industry, in the professions, or in other areas," Dr. Zachry says. "As a result, we now ask the young people to go back and remain children until we are ready for them."

As a consequence, Dr. Zachry found that our boys and girls, afraid, and they cannot be absorbed by society in a constructive capacity, are just shuffling along, without any sort of philosophy, without any hope for the future, apathetic, with a defeatist, hopeless feeling.

They are ready, Dr. Zachry feels, to listen to any Hitler-like leader who promises something better.

Perhaps that is too dark a picture. We may hope so.

But hoping is not enough. Every plan or proposal that offers to young people a better future than this needs to be examined, and if promising, to be passed forward.

What these young people will be 20 years from today, the country will be.

Causes and Successful Treatment of Delirium Tremens Discussed

More than a hundred years ago doctors recognized that people who partake not wisely but too well of alcoholic liquors are likely to develop symptoms in which they have mental and physical disturbances associated with convulsions.

There is a general idea that people develop delirium tremens because they have been drinking heavily and constantly. Actually they stop drinking because an overindulgence in alcohol sets up a disturbance in the stomach and bowels which makes it impossible for them either to eat or drink.

Seventy-five per cent of all people who have delirium tremens develop the attack while they are drinking. It is, therefore, ridiculous to give such people more alcohol with the idea that more alcohol will stop the symptoms.

Nevertheless, that was once considered to be a good form of treatment. It was also thought necessary to put every patient with delirium tremens into a straitjacket to prevent the patient from harming himself and everyone else.

With competent nursing, such mechanical measures are unnecessary. Furthermore, we have lately developed some excellent methods of producing relaxation and quiet, these methods involving the use of drugs which can be injected into the body.

Next comes the question of getting the patient away from alcohol permanently and of restoring his physical health to such a stage that he can again take up his work.

One of the largest clinics in the country devoted to the care of alcoholic addicts is in the Bellevue Hospital in New York City. In that institution a series of 10 principles has been set up for the treatment of those with alcoholic delirium which seems to have been most successful.

The first step is to withdraw alcohol immediately from the patient. Next, sedatives are given in order to keep the patient quiet. Third, mechanical restraints are avoided unless they are absolutely necessary.

Fourth, a large amount of carbohydrate food, such as sugar or glucose solution, is given to help sustain the patient. Fifth, salt is given in an attempt to combat the loss of water from the body and to restore the normal relationship between acid and alkali.

Sixth, a diet that is rich in vitamins and high in calories is provided. Seventh, plenty of water is given. Eighth, whenever it is necessary in order to make certain of the diagnosis, a spinal puncture is attempted and the spinal fluid is examined.

Ninth, all complications such as fractures, injuries, bruises, etc., are treated with special methods as required. Tenth, the mental side of the patient is studied carefully in order to determine what difficulties in his life may be responsible for causing him to be addicted to alcohol.

If possible, such forces are brought under control so that the patient may be freed from his addiction.

Memories of a Nickel.

When we were youngsters, you and I in days which flew so swiftly by. The times were hard; the luxuries which our departed childhood knew. In days when all we owned was health. A nickel seemed like boundless wealth. The coin a full day's barter meant. For had it been of solid gold. No more of pleasure could it hold. A nickel of our own to buy. Whatever charm should catch the eye. Today and it is truth I tell, A dollar serves not half so well. These modern youngsters have no thought. Of what with nickels once was bought. Offered such things they reply, "Now what on earth will that thing buy?" And if I wonder can it be, These kids are happier than were we? Were we not wealthy, you and I? With all a nickel then would buy? —E. A. G.

Paul Wins Recognition for Gentiles
Text: Acts 15:23-29;
Galatians 2:1, 2, 9, 10

The meaning of the Gospel for Paul and the significance of the Christian experience was the discovery that the grace of God is for all men without distinction. Later, he was to write, "If any man be in Christ Jesus, he is a new creature; old things are passed away, all things are become new."

The emphasis in these words should be placed on the word "any," and very quickly in the early Christian church this power of the Gospel in the types of men and women who were brought into the new fellowship. But this did not happen without a great deal of controversy and without protest.

There were some who felt that gentiles either had no place in the church at all, or that if they were to come into this new fellowship, they must come by becoming first of all Jews through the rite of circumcision and being made subject to the ritual requirements of the Jewish law.

Perhaps it was natural that those who had been brought up strongly in the Jewish law and tradition should feel that way, and should regard it as a refection upon Moses and his great leaders that a new religious community should grow up fulfilling the great ideas and ideals of Moses and the prophets, yet free from the ritual requirements that had developed around these great teachings.

Paul, however, was insistent upon the rights and privileges of these new Christians. He saw the experience in Christ Jesus transforming men and women, turning sinners into saints, and he saw that this experience was not by any means confined to those of any one race or of any one form of religious association.

Those who came into the Christian Church from the pagan world under the power of the Gospel could not truly manifest their love of God and love of fellowmen as these brought up in the Jewish tradition. Paul looked out upon this early church, with its great variety of new converts, and he described this new communion as one in which "there is neither Greek nor Jew, circumcision or uncircumcision, barbarian or Scythian, bond nor free, but Christ is all and in all."

It was the conception and vision of a man who had brought the great realities of religion out into the broad area of the world and into the wide sweep of humanity. It is to the credit of the early church that when Paul appeared to the first council of the church at Jerusalem the council upheld this view and sent to the churches in Antioch, Syria and Seleucia, where Paul had been engaged in his missionary journeys, those who would uphold the work of Paul and make it plain that the one great, essential quality of membership in the Christian Church was the worship of the true God and the manifestation of the fruits of the Christian spirit.

It was a wise and wholesome decision upon which depends the inherent worth and permanency of Christianity. Again and again through the history of the church, there have been those who would turn back the wheels of progress, and who would make the demands and faith of Christianity life less reaching. There have been efforts to limit this experience to race, nationality, and to certain forms of what men have called orthodoxy.

But it is a true now as it was in these early days of the church that "if any man have the spirit of Christ he is none of His," and if a man have the spirit of Christ, no matter what his race or color or antecedents, he is recognized of God and has as truly the right and privileges of the Christian as anyone else.

NEWS OF CHURCHES

FIRST BAPTIST
William Russell Hamilton, Pastor.

Special revival services continue at First Baptist church Friday and Saturday nights at 7:30 and Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. It is especially hoped, in view of the fact that there will be no school, that the auditorium may be filled with boys, girls, and young people Saturday morning. This will afford an opportunity to perfect the Easter choir which will sing each night during the revival week.

Sunday's services will be at the usual hour, but unusual interest is attached to them. A one hundred per cent attendance in each department of the church school is the goal at 9:45. Dr. Garrett will preach at the 10:55 service Sunday morning and again at the 7:30 service Sunday night. Those who have been hearing Dr. Garrett's messages this week know what a treat it is to hear them Sunday. Special music will be employed at all services.

First Baptist church cordially invites all residents of Hope and surrounding territory who are not regularly worshipping with some other church to attend these special revival services.

Our pastor will preach at both the morning and evening hours. The subject for the morning, 11:30 o'clock will be "Heart Trouble." At 8 p. m. he will use as a subject, "The Two Destinies of Men." Special song service to be conducted by Fred Heardy of Magnolia. Come to the preaching service Sunday.

Sunday School 9:45 Grady Hairston, superintendent. Would you like for Sunday to be an outstanding day in Sunday School attendance? If so, here are those ways you can help, be present and on time, bring the entire family, and bring some young friends. All classes of the B. Y. P. T. C. meet at 7 p. m. We urge the young people to be on time in order that we may have time for our program. We welcome you to all services.

HOPE GOSPEL TABERNACLE

Bert Webb, Pastor

Next Sunday the Revival campaign closes and a great crowd is looked for in all the services beginning with Sunday school at 9:45. Candy will be given to all the children through the courtesy of Lyman Armstrong, manager of the Scott store. Plans are being made to make a record number, will you come and be one of the winners?

Rev. Hammill will deliver his last sermon to the church in the morning worship service and will deliver his last evangelistic message Sunday night beginning at 7:45. Sister Hammill will sing in all the remaining services. A water baptismal service will be held at Dulin's Lake at "The Pines" on Sunday at 2:30 in the afternoon at which time a large number are expected to be baptized.

Christ's ambassadors; Children's church meet at 6:45. Bible study meets at 7 each Sunday night. Spend an enjoyable hour Sunday night at the Tabernacle, it is Hope's full-gospel center.

FIRST CHRISTIAN

V. A. Hammond, Pastor

Dr. Leet will be here Sunday morning until 9:45 to shake the hand of the first two hundred to come to Sunday school. This is the Sunday we reach our goal of more than 200 in Sunday school. But every one of us will have to work to do it. Plan to be here Sunday morning, and plan now to bring someone with you. Remember, we need you, and 200 others Sunday by 9:45.

Bruner Wins From Alton Camp, 12-1

Softball Commissioner
Brasher Urges Entries at Once

The Bruner-Two company softball team had little trouble in defeating the Alton CCC Camp, 12 to 1, in the opening game of the exhibition season at Fair Park Thursday night.

The lone run scored by the camp was a home run to deep center, Jack Fountain, shortstop for the Bruner team, also got a homer.

A second game between the Bruner team and one sponsored by Leo Robins was rained out. The Robins team will play its first exhibition contest next Tuesday night, meeting Ozan at Fair park.

Softball Commissioner Bill Brasher urged all teams entering the tour leagues to be operated this spring and summer to do so at once. Next Monday night is the deadline. Exhibition games will be played next week. Teams wishing to play are urged to get in touch with Mr. Brasher, and he will announce the exhibition schedule in the press.

tion service for the men recently elected as elders and deacons for the congregation. This is a very beautiful and impressive ceremony, and every member of the church should be present to witness it.

Rev. L. O. Leet will bring the final message of the series of revival services Sunday night, when he speaks on "The Church for Today." Members of his Texarkana congregation, who have heard this message, say that it is a scholarly and challenging analysis of the present-day church with prophetic setting forth of what Christ wants His church to be today.

In the services Friday night Dr. Leet will speak on "What is the Soul?" A feature of the service will be a duet by Rev. Baggett and L. Frank Wells. Our people should rally to the support of these final services in our revival. We should show our appreciation to Rev. Leet and Rev. Baggett for their presence with us and their inspiring work during the meeting.

Call at least five people this evening to invite them to attend services with you.

SERIAL STORY

BORDER ADVENTURE

BY OREN ARNOLD
COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday Betty sends a letter to the officers, telling them of her discovery, that a woman and child are involved in smuggling. They signal that she is safe.

CHAPTER XIV

BETTY MARY deduced accurately that El Casino Tecolote and The Place of the Sleeping Monk, two establishments with excellent music and excellent cuisine, really were Luis Barro's favorite hangouts when he was in Juarez. But, he appeared to have business out of town a great deal of the time.

Betty liked The Place of the Sleeping Monk better. It was quieter than the first spot. It did not have a big gambling room adjoining. It seemed to enjoy a better class of customers from among the many tourists who came across from El Paso.

A detail too was the fact that Luis Barro had ordered the proprietor and employees there to "show Senorita Jordan every possible courtesy whenever she comes in." She discovered that his order meant she could never pay her check, nor indeed pay for anything, despite the meticulous service they gave her. In a way she didn't like this, but in her capacity of detective she knew it was a valuable lead.

By sketching there often, and eating there at least once a day, she struck up a nominal friendship with the manager who sat in the cashier's booth. The fifth day of her stay in Mexico, she picked a moment in mid-morning when the place was almost empty and when Luis Barro had not been around for more than a day, then opened her purse in the cashier-manager's presence.

"Oh, dear, I must have left my compact in the hotel," she lamented.

As a woman would, she dished out all manner of poor tricks.

Lipstick. Handkerchief. Pencils. Coin purse. Note pad. Tiny scissors. Nail file. A snapshot of her father. Mirror. And— a .22 caliber rifle cartridge. She called his attention to the cartridge silently with her eyes.

Instantly the man turned to his cash register and pressed a button. "Cling-clang!" the machine sounded, and a "No Sale" sign popped up. From a drawer he calmly took a .22 cartridge of his own, fingered it a moment for her to see, dropped it back and closed the drawer. Betty Mary felt her pulse quicken. This was the third person today to whom she had ex-

The president said he talked about the general plane situation all over the world. He said the discussion was about military planes only.

Revival to Close at Gospel Tabernacle

Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Hammill to Bring Campaign to a Close

Sunday night will mark the close of the special revival campaign at the Hope Gospel Tabernacle.

The meeting has been going for three weeks under the direction of Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Hammill, and has been the greatest meeting for actual results ever held in the tabernacle.

Approximately one hundred people have responded to the altar calls and have come forward for prayer during the three weeks. Many others have received the baptism of the Holy Spirit and reconverted their lives to more definite Christian living.

The singing and playing of Mrs. Hammill has been a highlight of the services each night. Her consecrated ability is much appreciated and will never be forgotten by the people of Hope.

Rev. Hammill will speak Friday night on "The Woman Who Hen-Pecked Her Husband and Wrecked a Nation," and the evangelist promises to bring forth interesting enjoyable messages for the closing day on Sunday.

Special effort is being made to establish a new all-time high attendance record in Sunday school next Sunday.

The public is invited to hear the forcible, able preaching of Evangelist Hammill during the few remaining services of the meeting.

A water baptismal service will be held Sunday at 2:30, in the afternoon at Dulin's lake.

10-Year Program for 1st Christian

New Official Board Is announced by Local Congregation

In a meeting held after the revival services Thursday night the newly-elected official board of First Christian church of Hope elected officers for the coming year and began the set-up of a 10-year program for the church.

County Judge Frank Rider was elected president, George E. Dodds, vice-president, Joe E. Floyd, secretary, and Thomas Kinser treasurer. Four elders and eight deacons on the board in a drawing set up a three year term of service. Hereafter, one-third of the board will be selected annually. A regulation adopted Thursday night provided that any member of the board absent for fifty percent of the time automatically vacates his office.

The meeting Thursday night authorized the organization of the junior deacons; and provided a definite program for them. It also provided for a monthly meeting of the elders at least a week preceding the monthly meeting of the Official Board, and outlined the work of both groups. It authorized the appointment of necessary standing committees with authority to act and paved the way for a budget allowance for the work of these committees.

A resolution was passed adopting "The College of Life" program for the young people of the church. This program includes the juniors, intermediates and senior young people and provides in a week-night beginning about five o'clock and lasting to about ten for recreation, a supper hour, a Bible study hour and a closing worship period. Mrs. Alva Ryerson was elected co-sponsor for the young people's program.

Members of the new Board are: E. G. Coop, Harry Phipps and D. Shannan for three year terms; Frank Rider, E. S. Richards, Lloyd Coop, Thos. Kinser for two year terms; and Geo. F. Dodds, J. R. Floyd, Alva Ryerson, J. F. Porterfield for one year terms. Additional members, who hold offices in the various auxiliaries of the church, are Mrs. C. S. Lowthorpe, Mrs. Geo. F. Dodds, Mrs. J. F. Porterfield and Mrs. Alva Ryerson, whose terms on the Board will expire with their respective terms of office.

The next meeting of the board will be held Monday night, April 24, beginning promptly at 7:30. Rev. L. O. Leet will return from Texarkana for this meeting, to continue his assistance in the setting up of the new 10-year program which he has proposed for the Hope congregation.

May Abandon State High School Meets

Matter to Be Decided at the Annual Meeting of Officials

CONWAY.—Because of declining interest, district and state high school literary and athletic meets may be abandoned after this year, B. A. Short, superintendent of the Conway schools, said Thursday.

Officials of the Arkansas Interscholastic Contest Association, sponsor of the events, are circulating a questionnaire on the subject to superintendents and high school principals. The matter probably will be decided at the annual meeting in November, Mr. Short said.

Attendance at the state meet at Arkadelphia last year was disappointingly small. This year the state events again were awarded to Arkadelphia. The No. 11 district meet, including Arkansas valley towns between Conway and Ozark, will be held at Russellville this week-end.

Mr. Short said at least two districts

Murphy Shifts Stone to Reddie Backfield

ARKADELPHIA, Ark.—Good backs are so scarce on the Henderson State Teachers College football squad that Coach Tom Murphy Thursday called off a practice game scheduled for Friday.

Dominic Feeley, fullback, was called to his home in Wyoming by the illness of his father and will not return. Ralph James, Indian fullback, has withdrawn from college. Others are out with injuries.

These losses have necessitated transferring Freeman Stone, 200-pound knuckle to fullback. Coach Murphy also has Buddy Parker of Benton, Dan Hall of Sheridan, Floyd Sturgis of Arkadelphia and Lylester Varnado of Norphlet, all of whom have had one or more years experience with the Reddies.

Soft Coal Miners Will Go on Strike

Pittsburgh District Is Already Out—Others Are to Follow Them

NEW YORK.—(AP)—John L. Lewis Wednesday night ordered a complete shutdown of the nation's soft coal industry unless Appalachian region operators quickly come to terms with the United Mine Workers on a new contract.

Officials in the U. M. W. districts outlining the Appalachian region began announcing that the C. I. O. president had notified them to terminate special agreements under which they have continued working while 338,000 Appalachian miners were idle.

Fifteen days' notice is required to terminate the agreements. A U. A. W. spokesman here said about 150,000 miners in 14 states would be affected in Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Wyoming, Montana, Washington, Colorado, New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Alabama and western Kentucky.

Contract terms in those areas are based on the terms for the Appalachian region which produces 70 per cent of the nation's soft coal. Appalachian U. M. W. members quit work April 1 when their two-year agreement expired.

Representative Doughton (Dem., N. C.) told President Roosevelt that as a result of the work-stopping, coal stocks were alarmingly low in some North Carolina industrial plants, and he asked for a better distribution of the available supply.

Growing railroad unemployment resulting from the eight-state mine shutdown was reported by two major lines as negotiations between union miners and bituminous operators for a new labor contract dragged on in their sixth week.

Both sides said that if it persisted beyond the 10th day, the situation would more adversely affect the public than any similar struggle since the six-month strike in 1922.

Dickey Hits Home Run in the Second Inning to Help Cause

NEW YORK.—(AP)—For the first time since Babe Ruth was the big gun of their artillery, the Yankees won their American League opening game Thursday, whipping the Boston Red Sox 2-0, despite some elegant elbowing by old Robert Moses Grove.

The leann Marylander made only two mistakes, but they cost him the game. In the second, he grooved one for Bill Dickey and Sweet William banded for a homer. In the fifth he tossed Jake Powell a good ball, with Red Rolfe on base, and Jake, a right-handed hitter, knocked it into the right-field corner for three bases to send the other run across.

Meantime, with 30,278 fans on hand to see the first game of the three-timed world champions, Burly Red Ruffing set the highly-regarded Red Sox down with several hits.

The first baseman for each club, Lou Gehrig and Jimmy Fox, both showed signs of wear and tear. Lou went hitless, lined into two double plays and made a childish error in the ninth. Fox, who won the American League batting championship last year, fanned twice and also failed to hit. In addition, his error in the fifth set the stage for Powell's three-base belt.

Grove, like Ruffing, gave only seven hits, and pulled himself out of bad spots a couple of times. In the second, for instance, he fanned Ruffing and Crosetti in order to leave two Yanks stranded.

So They Say

So Brenda decided not to take the $500,000 movie contract—Mrs. Frederic Watriss, mother of Brenda Frazier, New York debutante.

We do not forget. We are preparing. We are thinking in terms of decades. Therefore we are always ready to wait, as befits a people sure of itself because it has many weapons and very strong hearts.—Benito Mussolini.

Application to make women remove big hats at the movies has broken out again. They might leave them on during the "B" half of the double bill, though.
